

Main information about the Company

The mission that we intend to develop around the world is to participate in the improvement of human nutrition through an enrichment of animal products (eggs, rabbit meat,...) with sustainable DHA.

Copri develops complete and balanced menus respecting the international nutritional recommendations providing the necessary levels of DHA to cover the human needs

For rabbits this objective is based on 2 pillars: antibiotics free meat production and a deep knowledge of the enrichment of rabbit meat with short and long chain omega 3 (DHA). It extends to the development of a range of products adapted to new consumption patterns: snacking, nomadic consumption, sausages, hamburgers.....in few words, our rabbit meat, is a way to eat easily, tasty and healthy food.
